

Hey, shoeshine!

Screw you, lady.

I'm not some job I had for three months when I was nine.

Of course, that... that was thoughtless. My friend and I were just curious what you gentlemen are all, you know...

What's the rumpus, boss?

You heard of these #Leaderboard yahoos?

I'm familiar.

Well, one of them just hijacked a Blue Phoebe.

Drove it right into the carbon scrubber over Moscow.

Guessing that ain't good.

The Soviets are calling it state-sponsored terrorism.

They just dispatched a whole fleet of Fyodors, should be reaching our shores any second now.

Fyodors?

Keep up, old-timer.

They're like a scarier version of our Guardianas, feel me?

You know how many lifetimes I've been waiting to see something like this?
